

James Hamill – Managing Director – California Statewide Communities Development Authority (CSCDA)

James Hamill serves as a Managing Director for CSCDA, overseeing all of its public finance programs. During the last 14 years, his efforts have resulted in the raising and deployment of over $20 billion in financing for over 300 projects throughout California that provide significant public benefit. Mr. Hamill also played an integral role in establishing the Statewide Community Infrastructure Program (SCIP) to further increase financing available for economic development activities in California.

Trained as a bankruptcy lawyer and having spent two years as a Law Clerk with the United States Bankruptcy Court, Mr. Hamill is highly skilled at providing creative solutions and proactively managing bond portfolios.

Mr. Hamill is a graduate of the University of California, Riverside with a BA in Political Science and received a Law Degree from Whittier Law School.