

Timothy E. Kelley is the president and chief executive officer of the Imperial Valley Economic Development Corporation (IVEDC). He joined IVEDC in April of 2005. In his current position, he is responsible for the expansion of the region's strategic economic development plan, as well as engaging initiatives that strengthen the regional economic vitality.

Tim is the immediate past chair of the Board of Directors and currently VP of international trade and investment of TeamCalifornia, a statewide organization that promotes international trade and investment for California, a member of the U.S. Department of Commerce San Diego-Imperial District Export Council; and a member of the Board of Directors of CleanTECH San Diego, as well as the San Diego Regional Economic Development Corporation.

Tim received a Bachelor's in Communications Arts and Sciences from the Annenberg School of Communications at the University of Southern California.

"I am looking forward to serving on the CALED Board as a director. My past involvement with CALED has been very rewarding. The content of training and conferences has been very useful in my career in Economic Development. We all need to recognize the diversity of California and I believe I bring a unique perspective to CALED living in a Rural, evolving, and growing region and can't wait to share my experience with the board."
