Kendall DeMatteo Levan is a partner with the law firm of Kane, Ballmer & Berkman (with offices in Los Angeles and San Diego, California, and West Palm Beach, Florida) and serves as special counsel to several of the firm's public agency clients. Ms. Levan also serves as General Counsel to the Palm Springs Cemetery District and the Gateway Cities Affordable Housing Trust. With a focus of advising on governmental processes, land use, redevelopment, economic development, real estate development, and fiber infrastructure and broadband projects on behalf of public agencies, Ms. Levan enjoys providing legal services on such matters as affordable housing, large and small mixed-use and commercial real estate development, stadium facilities, real property and development project workouts, infrastructure projects, real property acquisitions and dispositions, and municipal fiber projects.

Throughout her career, Ms. Levan has represented a variety of public agencies including municipalities and their related entities, JPAs, community service districts, and public cemetery districts, and has advised on all pertinent areas of public law, including in both transactional and litigation matters.

Ms. Levan currently serves on the Board of Directors of the California Association for Local Economic Development, the Board of Trustees of the Thomas Jefferson School of Law, and the Local Government and Land Use Committee of the Palm Beach County Bar Association. In addition, Ms. Levan is a member of the San Diego Junior League, Inc., the California Lawyers Association (Public Law and Real Property Law sections), the San Diego County Bar Association, and the California Special Districts Association. Ms. Levan has served on various committees of the California League of Cities, including, but not limited to, serving as Chair of the Municipal Law Handbook Committee.

Ms. Levan is licensed to practice law in the states of California, Florida and Connecticut, and before the United States District Court, Southern District, and the United States Supreme Court. Ms. Levan is also a certified Redevelopment Professional by the Florida Redevelopment Association.
